Dark Days Pass and West Is Full of Hope

David Lawrence

(This is the second of two dispatches analyzing the trend of political sentiment in the states from Illinois to the Pacific. Lawrence to visit all the states in that region in a trip commencing thirty days of actual traveling. Mr. Lawrence begins today his study of the eastern and New England states.)

Midwest America, Oct. 15.—There is something hopeful, something buoyant about the spirit of the west today which finds its reflex in politics, of course, but which makes the west feel the thrill of ever-growing confidence. The dark days of depression have passed and the dawn of a prosperous tomorrow has come.

It is not altogether due to the rise in the prices of agricultural products or the favorable crops. It is due to some extent to a feeling of stability, to the fact that the reconstruction of America's economic life following the war has come to a steady, upward, but assured pace. There is an air of progress, of things moving in the right direction, of great opportunity.

Hope for Future

Political Notes

The Illinois democratic state central committee is urging a state house election based on acts of Governor Len Small.

General Daves will start next week on a campaign of the east, to continue until election.

A reception and buffet luncheon for a delegation of 25 delegates from the Wisconsin association was the chief political item on President Coolidge's program.

Senator Borah will seek re-election in November as a republican and not as a progressive, his choice being announced after Idaho supreme court ruled no candidate could run on two tickets.

Three letters from union men, praising John W. Davis' part in coal strike settlement, were made public through the democratic national committee.

Secretary of State Hughes, speaking in New York, said victory for LaFollette would destroy prosperity in the United States, and urged Coolidge's election to ward off a "serious disaster."

Carl Mathie of Wausau, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, urged a budget system for state finances.

Congressman Theodore Burton of Ohio assailed LaFollette's anti-trust policy in an address at Oshkosh.

Senator LaFollette, speaking in Des Moines, endorsed Senator Brookhart's investigation of operation rather than of law violation.

MERE POSSESSION OF LIQUOR IS VIOLATION

Dirigible Line Across Ocean Seen by Captain of Sea Spanning Airship

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Takoburn, N.J.—While the whole world marveled at their feat, the 31 members of the party that traveled from Germany to America in the ZEP-3 today enjoyed their first full day of rest since leaving Friedrichshafen Sunday.

They spent the evening before calmly telling the story of the flight in the phrases that seemed almost commonplace compared to the magnitude of their accomplishment.

While they talked they smoked—a pleasure forbidden on the ship because of the danger of an explosion.

The Germans who composed the crew which guided the giant airship on her epoch-making flight left the huge craft reluctantly. They were fond of their craft with the fondness of mariners for the vessel that has brought them safely to port.

Sees Airship Line

Dr. Hugo Reckner, Zeppelin president, who commanded the ZEP-3 on its transatlantic voyage, was so enthusiastic about the accomplishment of his craft that he expressed the belief that a regular line of airships carrying freight and passengers between Germany and the United States might be established soon.

The task of releasing from the mammoth craft its dangerous hydrogen, representing an expenditure of $1,600 is under way and probably will be completed today. Immediately after the Zeppelin landed, forty seals (Continued on Page 5)

KLAN ADDRESS IS PRINTED AS THAT OF GEORGIA CHIEF

Atlanta — What is purported to be the text of the address delivered by Governor Clifford Walker of Georgia at the Klansville of the Ku Klux Klan in Kansas City, September 23, is published today in an article in the Atlanta Constitution.

The newspaper stated that the text is reprinted from the Imperial Night Hawk, official organ of the Klan.

"The Night Hawk," however, it is understood, does not state that the address is that of Governor Walker, but says it was "delivered by a 'prominent citizen'."

"We can be in a position to help only by unifying the American nation, building it up, making it strong, keeping it independent, and its independence helped and disincorporated to injure."

The president said this country welcomes new comers, as it has in the past, but that it has now been forced to restrict immigration to protect those already here as well as those who would come.

The immigration law, he added, should not be considered a reflection on any race or creed.

LOYALTY TO U. S. HELD FIRST STEP IN WORLD RELIEF

Washington — America can do most in setting world troubles and in relieving its own standard, President Coolidge told a delegation of foreign born citizens today, by continuing "as an example and a demonstration that peace, harmony, cooperation and a truly national patriotic sentiment may be established and perpetuated on an American scale."

"Those who cast in their lot with this country can be true to the land of their origin only by first being true to America," he said.

POOL ROOM OWNER HELD IN MURDER

Madison — A bloody cap was the only clue police had today to the fatal shooting last night of Peter Souer, 27, operator of a pool hall in Madison's Italian section.

Mike Riola, another pool hall operator, is being held for questioning in connection with the case.

The killing marks the seventh in the Italian district in two years. Police attribute the difficulties to a liquor war which has been in progress there for several years.

Wm. McCue Is Treasurer of Y Building Fund

William McCue, newly elected president of the city council and chairman of the First National bank of Janesville, has been selected as the treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. new building fund and has consented to serve, thus adding another important responsibility and service to the community.

The general confidence reposed in Mr. McCue by the citizens generally, his accessibility and his unflinching courage makes the selection one that will meet with approval of all contributors to the new "Y" building fund.

COMPANY'S PLEA IS HELD UNJUST BY CITY ATTORNEY

STATE MEN HERE

2 1/2-Hour Hearing Conducted Before R. R. Commission at City Hall.

Janesville entered vigorous protest against the proposed increase in telephone rates in a public hearing conducted in the municipal court room here for two and one-half hours Thursday morning by officials of the Wisconsin railroad commission and at its conclusion the session it was announced that an adjournment would be taken to Oct. 25 at Madison for receiving additional testimony.

While the commission made no formal statement, it was indicated that no rate increases are going to be granted to the Wisconsin Telephone company until the whole situation in the state is thoroughly investigated. It is believed the commission wants to get the matter set and satisfactorily this year in a case that will have a large effect in determining action in future cases.

Cumulative Flights for City

The fight against the proposed rate increase in the Wisconsin Telephone company was carried on before the commission by City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham urged the commission to consider the fact that the Wisconsin Telephone company is making a substantial return on its investment over the whole state, despite the company's figures showing a loss in operation of the Janesville plant.

"Telephone rates in this city should not be raised out of line with those in cities of comparable size," he declared.

After the man had settled the loss, the company did not desire to prosecute but Chief Newman declared he would take him to court regardless. Smutler's home is in Beaver Dam. He was employed several months at the Northrop office. He was turned over to the police by the Northrop office.

COLE RETURNS TO MADISON POSITION

Madison—Leon J. Cole, head of the genetics department of the Wisconsin college of agriculture, has returned to the state after a year on leave.

While away Mr. Cole served as chief of the animal husbandry division of the United States department of agriculture and was called to all sections of the country in directing the work being undertaken to develop and improve American live stock production. He also visited Europe to study their breeding methods.

The Wisconsin college is co-operating with the division in attacking some of the problems of animal husbandry in this state. Two men from the federal department, B. L. Warwick and W. F. Devoe are now stationed at the college, working under Cole's direction, on breeders' problems.

Work is being done by the division on beef cattle, sheep and goats, swine, horses and mules, poultry, and other animal products, and investigations. Dairying is so important that an independent bureau of dairying has been established.

WITHHOLD CLAIMS IF APPLICATION DELAYED

Madison—The state soldiers' rehabilitation board today was advised by the attorney general's department not to pay claims to persons who have attended school without formal assignment and who did not apply for the bonus until after July 1, this year.

This opinion, written by Deputy Attorney General Erikson, said it is doubtful whether the board has any authority to allow such claims and recommended that until the bonus law is clarified by the legislature, no such claims be granted.

It was further pointed out that the bonus law probably does not contemplate the payment of any bonus after July 1 of this year, since the rehabilitation board at that time replaced the soldiers' educational bonus board.

The ruling was given to John G. Salsman, secretary of the rehabilitation board.

Urge Cleanup of Farm Ditches with Explosive

JANESVILLE—There are 500 miles of open drainage ditches in Wisconsin that need a clean-up. So says John Swenchart, land clearing specialist of the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

A demonstration on the use of dynamite in cleaning out several old ditches, carried on late last week at the Albert Olson farm, near here, told the story to farmers from near and far. Swenchart was in charge of the demonstration.

"Some of the ditches dug 10 years ago are in need of repair," declares Swenchart. "Sediment has settled in their bottoms and made them almost useless. This sediment must be removed. There are 2,000 miles of open ditches in operation in Wisconsin and about 500 of these are in need of such improvement."

It is cheaper to use explosives like dynamite than to use a dredge for cleaning out ditches. For one foot of sediment that has accumulated in the bottoms of open ditches, according to the land clearing authority, this was proved by tests in Racine and Wisconsin counties during September.

In these tests it was found that dynamite, the was-advanced explosive, carried considerable advantage over the old method of cleaning ditches by dredging.

"This dynamite method of cleaning ditches promises to bring the clean-up of the state's drainage system to the farmer's purse," declares Swenchart. "There is a large supply of dynamite available at the actual cost of carting and shipping. It is made up largely of ground and fused powder. The government makes no charge for the material itself. It is distributed through the agricultural college."

Gnats Harmless Says Health Dept.

Gnats that have infested Janesville the past few days may be annoying, but they aren't harmful, from the standpoint of public health, so agree Dr. Fred L. Welch, health officer, and Dr. J. J. Woodworth, sanitary inspector.

"Two or three good heavy frosts will put an end to their frolic," they said.

Dr. Welch said there are many species of gnats but he has not yet conducted a microscopic investigation to determine just which kind is causing the headquarters in Janesville this fall.

PLAN ENLARGEMENT OF RESEARCH WORK

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Madison—Discussion of plans for enlarging historical research work in Wisconsin, to preserve the state's past and future, was the main topic before the 24th annual convention of the State Historical Society held today. Recommendations regarding research work probably will be adopted before the convention closes tonight.

Plans have been worked out by the executive committee of the society, according to its report, under which the state's historical research work will be divided into three departments: the state historical library at the university, the state historical museum, and the state historical archives.

In past years, the work of the library has been virtually all of the society's funds. It is said, "Should such plans be adopted, the society would then use its funds for research work."

Delegates to the convention spent the day in open discussions and inspection of the historical museum, which is to be completed in three years.

An address by Prof. Arthur Beatty of the university, on European libraries, will close the meeting.

NARCOTIC AGENT KILLED BY NEGRO

CRUSHER RENTAL RAISED BY BUREAU

Slight Increase Necessitated by Large Repair Bills Directors Hold.

An increase in the rental price of limestone crushers, and restricting their rental to farm bureau members was noted upon favorably by the board of directors here Monday.

The rental price was raised from 25 cents a ton to 40, effective Jan. 1, because the board felt that the present price is not sufficient to cover the cost of repairs, which have been heavy. The bureau will pay for all repairs on the machines.

Two Crushers on Contract
The two limestone crushers now under contract here will be rented to Farm Bureau members only, this step being deemed wise because of the large number of requests being made for their use. Two machines are under contract.

A membership campaign will be launched in the townships of Milton, Lima, Bradford, and Nowar, which were not canvassed when other townships were visited.

The directors were well pleased with the report made by J. C. Mabel, county livestock agent, concerning the 1924 show and C. C. Cole, a wide four with a balance of nearly $1,000 in the treasury. A final report will not be made for some time, there being a few minor matters to be cared for.

Sign With State Bureau
Formal acceptance of membership in the Wisconsin State Farm Bureau was made by the board. While the Rock county bureau, organized as a corporation, has always been considered a part of the state organization, there are some outstanding points that will be covered through papers that will be signed.

Action upon whether or not the state appropriation for the maintenance of the county agent's office will be continued by the bureau was postponed until the meeting Nov. 11, when it will be made a special order of business.

Citizen's Asked to Burn Leaves

Burn dead leaves now and save added expense to the city. This request is being made by the department of public works to every resident of Janesville, with the one warning of not burning them on asphalt-macadam streets. It may be advisable to add also that care should be taken about keeping the fires a safe distance away from buildings.

Many citizens have already taken up the task, a number of the streets at night presenting the appearance of a large campfire with long rows of campfires.

As soon as all the leaves have fallen, the city trucks will begin a general cleanup of the streets for the winter. The leaves are being destroyed now will save that many trips for the trucks a few weeks later.

J. R. LAMB LOSES TEXAS LAND CASE

Supreme Court Decides Long
Litigation, Overruling
Judge Reid.

After 11 years of litigation, the so-called land case in which many Janesville and Southern Wisconsin men participated, is closed with the decision of the supreme court holding that James R. Lamb, 765 Milwaukee avenue, Janesville, gained recovery of $3,750 from 10 others who with Lamb gave notes in subscribing towards the purchase of 72,000 acres of land in Brewster county, Texas, in 1913.

In the second time it has heard litigation over the same business venture, the supreme court upholds the appellants, represented by Attorney Otto Osterlich, Janesville, and reverses the decision of Judge A. J. Reid of Wausau who granted Lamb judgment in a decision given April 24, 1924.

Lamb Sued too Late
The court holds that Lamb is barred from recovery because he did not bring action within three years following the time the first decision was given by the supreme court, as required by statute. Those held liable toward contributing to Mr. Lamb's loss through Judge Reid's decision but who pay nothing through the supreme court decision are Fred Grady, Dr. J. P. and Walter Pembler, C. L. Schoonaker, and Edward H. Ryan, all of Janesville; W. E. Burke, Milwaukee; H. J. Grell, Johnson Creek; Albert Erickson, Watertown; Charles McKimney, Milwaukee; and Frank M. Derrick, Brodhead.

Mr. Osterlich represented Messrs. Schoonaker, Grady, Pembler Bros., Erickson, and Ryan. There was no appearance for the others. F. C. Burpee, Janesville, was the attorney for Mr. Lamb.

Land Dealt in 1909
The case which first came to the attention of the supreme court under the title of D. I. Sicklesteel vs. Edmonds, et al, involves an amazing legal tangle.

Its history dates back to May 1, 1909, when Maltch of Stevens Point and A. Lorenz, Milwaukee, made a land contract with J. O. Terrell and Ed. Ross of Texas county, Texas, for purchase of 72,000 acres of land in Brewster county, which lies in the most southwestern corner of the state, along the Rio Grande. The price was $1.20 per acre except for one block that was sold for $1 an acre.

32 Subscribed $28,000
The men paid $4,000 down upon the property, and then circulated a subscription agreement to raise the money with which to pay $25,000 down on the property, after which a company was to be organized. Thirty-two persons subscribed from

Time is not money. Yet people are always spending it.

First Aid to Those Who Love

Mr. E. C.
A young lawyer writes:

"After years of seeking I found my ideal mate in my office. For her fine influence I dropped the other kind of girls. We were engaged."

"One night I received a phone message that an old flame was sick. I called. Out of a clear sky I walked my fiancée."

"Furious, she cried I had a touch of tarish on my past. She left in a rage and I nearly killed the other girl. I haven't seen either one since."

"My one real romance is broken. Why should my past mar our future? I love my fiancée deeply and sincerely. 'Tis you can I get her to come back to me."

WANTS ROCK RIVER SEINED OF CARP

Janesville Man Asks State Co-operation in Talk Before Convention.

Declaring that Rock river from Deloit to Horizon marsh is infested with carp that have caused the death of millions of game fish until the stream smells of their rot and that these same carp have killed off all the vegetation in Lake Koshkonong, E. E. Spaulding of Janesville told the state game convention Thursday morning at the court house that the cure for the situation is a business proposition between the "fish" chapters of the valley and the state conservation commission.

"We want to know how far the conservation commission can go with us and how far we must play a lone hand," he said. "We realize that the rough fish be seined to a certain level to be determined upon by those competent to decide so that plant and fish life may exist. We realize a certain amount of fry and fingerlings for stocking, not once, but annually. We must needs have the game laws enforced and observed, especially as to the regulation of the taking of rough fish. The whole thing is an example as 1, 2, 3—a business man's proposition—nothing political about it."

Good Fishing in Old Days.
Mr. Spaulding told how in "the old days" he caught 25 fish over nine pounds each in an afternoon. Now Koshkonong one was nationally known for its canvas-back; how the lake once was 25,000 acres of marsh, with a solid mass of wild celery and pond grass; how it was the home of countless hundreds of game fishes. He told how in 1906, A. E. Strout and H. L. Skaven analyzed and named 126 water plants, including those caught by deep-divers, canvas-backs, red-heads and blue-bills; as well as 50 varieties of shore plants that mark ducks, mallards and teal delight in. He told how in the past a plant of plant life grew to the acre, while in 1923-24, C. E. Terrell, an expert, called the bed of Koshkonong "a bare of vegetation as a ballroom floor" and that in 1923 D. T. Hyland found one plant, a bull rush.

Plant Life Destroyed.
"Not many years ago there were miles and miles of bass water in the Rock river valley—deep water bars covered with water-lilies, bulrushes, and larger great pike," he said. "But they have been rotted out by carp and we are cleaned today."

Deep-divers have destroyed the plant life that protects young fish of other species and attracts ducks; that they have ripped up spawning beds and have made the water untenable, making ducks and that so long as carp remain, native fish will not propagate and increase. He said that if the waters are rid of carp and restored with native fish, the valley will return to what it used to be.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home. But it does them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes time to make, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore in a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs, loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness, the dual action of Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions and don't expect anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

END OF PAVING PROJECT IN SIGHT

City Completes All Underground Work After Eight Months' Rush.

With Sharon and Logan street paving jobs scheduled for completion within the next two days, more than 95 percent of the 1924 program will have been finished with only South Jackson street, Eastern avenue and three short alley stretches remaining to be poured.

The end of the greatest paving project ever attempted by the city, being in sight, officials themselves are almost inclined to wonder how it was carried through in such a short space of time. At the time the program was planned and the contract let there were few who anticipated the finishing of it in 1924. Even the contract contained the provision for completion by July 1, 1925, thus permitting a large percentage of the job to carry over to the coming year if necessary, without penalty.

No small part of the task has fallen to the city in getting several miles of underground work completed, almost all of the contractor. A great storm sewer program was necessary, this being carried out under the direction of Street Engineer Joseph Lassing. Thousands of feet of sanitary sewer and water mains and laterals were laid with Water Works Engineer H. A. Griffey in charge of the crews.

The last of the underground work was completed Wednesday with the laying of mains and laterals in the three downtown alleys which are to be paved. Mr. Griffey will compile a full report of this work later but for the present he estimates the city installed a total of 700 sewer laterals and the same number of water laterals, running from the center of the street to the curb line. Several hundred more such jobs were completed by plumbing concerns.

An average of 12 men were employed from April 15 to Oct. 15 in the work.

NAME SUCCESSOR TO JENSEN OCT. 27

Selection of New Councilman Duty Developing on Council Itself.

Selection of a successor to Councilman J. K. Jensen, whose resignation from that office taken effect next Wednesday, is expected to be one of the principal matters of business for the next meeting of the city council, Oct. 27. Who will be selected is a matter of considerable speculation, the names of several leading citizens being mentioned.

The new councilman will serve the remaining six months of Mr. Jensen's term of two years, for which he was elected in April, 1923. The vacancy at the time will then be filled by a regular election, the man chosen by the council this month being eligible, of course, for re-election. Three other members' terms will also expire next April, they being: President William McCue, Councilmen Boyd C. Gardner and C. Starr Atwood. Terms of the other three members do not end until April, 1926.

The new president of the council, Mr. McCue, elected to succeed Mr. Jensen in that capacity, has taken over the duties of the office and has automatically become chairman of the committee of public works. With his elevation to the presidency, it will become necessary for him to appoint a successor to himself as chairman of the council committee on finance. He is expected to con-

Selection of New Councilman Duty Developing on Council Itself.

Selection of a successor to Councilman J. K. Jensen, whose resignation from that office taken effect next Wednesday, is expected to be one of the principal matters of business for the next meeting of the city council, Oct. 27. Who will be selected is a matter of considerable speculation, the names of several leading citizens being mentioned.

The new councilman will serve the remaining six months of Mr. Jensen's term of two years, for which he was elected in April, 1923. The vacancy at the time will then be filled by a regular election, the man chosen by the council this month being eligible, of course, for re-election. Three other members' terms will also expire next April, they being: President William McCue, Councilmen Boyd C. Gardner and C. Starr Atwood. Terms of the other three members do not end until April, 1926.

The new president of the council, Mr. McCue, elected to succeed Mr. Jensen in that capacity, has taken over the duties of the office and has automatically become chairman of the committee of public works. With his elevation to the presidency, it will become necessary for him to appoint a successor to himself as chairman of the council committee on finance. He is expected to con-

Y. M. C. A. NEW BUILDING CAMPAIGN

The proposed new building of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. will have a capacity for from 1,500 to 2,000 members, and is planned also to serve as clearing-house and community-center for various inter-denominational, inter-industrial and inter-community interests in the city, which, though not directly connected with the Association, but having no buildings of their own, are in need of such a common community meeting place.

The present Y. M. C. A. home in Janesville, erected in 1894, after 30 years of continuous hard usage, is worn out, inadequate, unattractive, and almost impossible for further effective and economical use. A NEW building is imperatively demanded if the boys and young men of Janesville are to be rightly served. The old building has been worn out in the service of the community—let's get together and replace the old, frazzled-out structure with a NEW, up-to-date, first-class Y. M. C. A. building.

232 Business Men in the Campaign believe that the boys and young men of Janesville are of as great value to, and deserve as much from our community as in any other city in the country. They have decided, therefore, to ask the citizens and friends of Janesville to provide the $275,000 necessary to erect and equip such a modern Association plant for the boys and young men of Janesville. In doing this they believe that they are proceeding along the path of the best experience, and are recommending the most economical use of such a sum of money for the best welfare of our community.

The Executive Committee are convinced that the time has come for action and eight days have been set apart, Oct. 21-28, for a Y. M. C. A. building campaign.

During these eight days, every citizen of Janesville, able to do so, will be given the opportunity of referendum in this important matter. It is believed that the outcome will be that Janesville will take its rightful place among the cities of 20,000 population that have made provision for the best welfare of their young men and boys, through adequate, modern Y. M. C. A. equipment.

Many people do not realize what a modern Y. M. C. A. building and the work such a building makes possible, mean to the city.

What Is the Young Men's Christian Association?

(An interpretation by C. K. Ober)

It Is An Opportunity for Young Men and Boys

It is a high-grade, low-cost young men's club—Christian, but not sectarian.

It is an athletic organization that does not use men to promote athletics, but uses athletics to develop men.

It is a night school for young men who work by day.

It is a home for young men away from home.

It helps young men not only to help themselves, but to help the other fellow.

It is a place for a young man to find friends and to make himself a friend to the man that needs friends.

It has no creed, but is enrolled by representatives of churches. This keeps it a Christian organization, but prevents it from becoming another church.

It has united in its management members of those churches which, though differing in creed, have found by experience that they can join without controversy or friction in the doing of religious work. This enables it to teach the Bible and to make practical use of Christian forces in helping young men.

Its fellowship, club rooms, gymnasium, baths, classes and all other practical advantages are open to all young men, of all faiths or of no faith.

It is not an experiment but is the survivor of many experiments. While other young men's organizations, social, athletic, educational, ethical and even religious, have failed, this has succeeded and is now in successful operation in over eight thousand places in North America and throughout the world.

It Is An Investment in Young Men and Boys

It is a high-class, far-sighted investment in the greatest undeveloped resources in the world—young men.

It is a wise and economical enlistment of young men themselves in the work of their own development.

It is a philanthropic and also self-interested provision of an all-round opportunity for young men.

It provides a clubhouse; the young men frequent it, and places of questionable resort are closed for want of patronage.

It provides a gymnasium; the young men use it, and put increased health and vitality into their day's work.

It provides a night school; the young men join it, and gain and keep the higher places waiting for skilled labor and efficiency.

It provides the Gospel; the young men practice it, and the community cuts down expenses for asylums, courts and jails.

It provides and organizes the time of men; the best and busiest in the community; the young men respond to it and develop latent powers of character and service.

It invites money; it gets manhood.

It invests sympathy; it gets friendships.

It invests small sacrifices; it gets abundant and deathless dividends.

It invests time and things that might otherwise perish; it gets character that continues and perpetuates itself in vital and constructive forces, for the moral and spiritual uplift of the world.

Its investments are human; its dividends are divine.

FARMERS WHO GET RESULTS

COMMENT ON THE UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR OCTOBER 19, 1924.

Read Mark 4.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

Just now every politician and every writer and even the preachers are talking about the problems of the poor down-trodden farmer. They go to the job and find something new and forget that we have had the same problem with us ever since man began to develop land and plant a few blundering food products, using a sharp stick as an implement.

It was the farm problem which faced Adam when he failed to appreciate the Garden of Eden and he was told that he must earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. It may be that Adam was lazy, spoiled by having nothing to do. The fact remains that the only way to be happy is to do what God told Adam to do, work, sweat and produce.

The farm problem was very familiar in the days when Jesus was living on earth and teaching. Many of his illustrations are taken from the work of the farmer. The lesson Sunday morning is drawn from a parable which uses the farmer as an illustration.

It is a joy to me to study the method of teaching used by Jesus. It is so common that all of us who teach would do well to study that method. In none of his sermons is there a theological discussion. In none of his illustrations is there an involved sentence. He always used the simplest illustrations, figures of speech with which every hearer was familiar.

Walking along one day with his disciples he passed by a farm. The farmer was sowing wheat. He did not have the modern drill pulled by a tractor. About his neck he wore a sack in which he used to be sowing seeds. He was not sowing wheat from seeds. Into this basket he dipped his hand and scattered the grain. This method of sowing was used in this country until recent years. I can remember seeing men walking in measured steps across a field sowing wheat in this way. It requires great skill and experience to sow wheat so that the grain should not be too thick in one spot and too thin in another.

The field which Jesus and his disciples watched that day was just an ordinary field. Across it was a pathway, the ground beaten into a hard surface by the passing of many feet. In some places the thorn bushes grew. Tradition says it was from these thistles or thorns that the crown of thorns worn by Jesus at the crucifixion was made. On the field was a rocky spot, but most of the field was well prepared and fertile.

Later in the day the crowds gathered at the seashore to hear him talk and to bring to him their lame and their sick and he gave them this wonderful parable. Every hearer visioned the familiar scene and knew exactly what he was talking about, but his disciples knew there was a lesson behind it and afterward Jesus explained that lesson.

For a year he had been very popular. People had flocked to hear him. He had suffered no serious opposition. Now the Scribes and Pharisees, who represented in that day and community about what our organized churches represent now, the religious opinion and religious authority, had decided that he was an impostor and must be driven from the country. His crowds began to fall off and he was trying to tell his disciples what was in the future for him. He had hinted several times that he was on his way to his death, but they did not understand it. It is a beautiful lesson and tells us not to be discouraged with our own work. The work of the world is in a bunch, that only a little of our work will be productive.

When we sow falls among the rocks, the soil is thin. Men moved by a revival join the church and then fall back again. Some teaching falls on good ground but on that ground the seed is choked. The growth of thorns we call lust and money and indulgence and no matter how good the seed may be it is many times choked out. Other seed falls on ground which was once fertile soil and would grow any thing. But it has been packed by many years of selfishness and selfishness until the soil is covered in a hard shell as impenetrable as iron. No argument can touch that soil.

Jesus has been laid down a great principle, which tells us that men and woman and to every business. The expert advertiser knows

If you desire to lessen the danger of taking cold during the winter sleep with bedroom well ventilated, so says Dr. A. B. Lewis, New York state commissioner of health.

It is a mistaken idea that people catch colds from too much ventilation. Fresh air is the greatest preventive of colds. People often catch colds by going from a close overheated room into the cold air, and they often catch colds if they get in a draft. There would be few colds, however, if people would use common sense in ventilating their homes. They should open their windows from the top, or so that there will be no draft. The fresh air they should let in the fresh air. Fresh air can hurt no one.

Eau Claire, Wis.—"For many years I have taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic to build me up whenever I was weak and nervous and it was always very beneficial, never failing to give me the relief I was seeking and to build me up in health and strength. I also gave the 'Prescription' to my daughter as a tonic when she was growing into womanhood and it did for her what it did for me. I have never known for women and girls."—Mrs. Geo. spoons of sugar, one quart, whole milk. Stir until eggs, sugar and milk are well mixed. Pour in eight custard cups and sprinkle with nutmeg. Set the cups in a pan half filled with water and bake in a moderate oven until done. Test with a silver knife. When custard is done the knife will cut a smooth slash and come out clean. Too much sugar or too long baking will cause custard to be watery.

HALLOWEEN SUGGESTIONS

Lantern sandwiches are made by cutting the jack-o-lantern faces in the upper half of the sandwich and letting the filling of pinquito cheese show through. Lay the cups of several sandwich together and cut the faces with a sharp knife or cut the eyes and nose of each piece separately with a small thimble or an apple corer and the mouth with a knife. These sandwiches should be made of a round loaf or else the slices should be cut round with a large biscuit cutter, to give the face its shape.

Cheese paper can be bought in various colors and designs in even small towns and can be used in the making of many clever favors. From the figured paper or napkins cut as many of the mysterious witches riding across on their broom sticks as the number of guests. Mount each on a bit of cardboard to make her stand upright and stick the cardboard so that each witch can perch on the edge of a glass of cider, or make a face on a hickory nut, using the point for the nose, or on a hazel nut, and dress it in black crepe paper and stand it on the edge of the glass, using a straw for the broom.

For stuffed pumpkins for the menu for the party, cover paper cups with orange paper or with the paper on which is stamped a pumpkin, and fill with creamed oysters, topped oysters in a thick cream sauce, made of butter, flour and milk.

Gondie Salad.—On each plate put a slice of pineapple in the center with a half banana; put a spoonful of mayonnaise on top, letting a little run down the side, and crown with a red macintosh cherry.

Women's Minor Ills come from one cause

Chronic constipation is the plague of their lives, but thousands keep healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

WOMEN are so accustomed to finding themselves constipated that they are apt to make matters worse by indifference. Unfortunately many seem to think that it is easier to give the appearance of health with cosmetics, or stifle a headache with an opiate, than to remove the real cause by taking a good laxative.

The pill habit, of course, is not to be recommended, but any woman can take such a mild laxative as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with assurance that the dose can gradually be decreased and that there will be no shock or weakening of the system.

As is generally known, Syrup Pepsin is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. A spoonful will clean out the impacted matter and make you feel well by morning.

You should take a dose when you feel the slightest symptom of constipation, such as biliousness, flatulency, indigestion, loss of appetite, restless sleep, bad breath, dull eyes, sallow skin, and to stop fevers and colds. Many do not wait for these symptoms, but take Syrup Pepsin regularly once a week. Mrs. Mary J. White, 122 Cedar Ave., Camden, N. J., and Mrs. L. H. Edwards, Palisade, Colo., say that much of their excellent health can be ascribed to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The other members of the family also use it as, being free from opiates and narcotics, it is perfectly safe, even for infants.

More than ten million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sold annually, the largest sale in the world. If you have been in the habit of using strong cathartic pills, salt water or 'sandy' cathartics, which contain a coal-tar drug called phenolphthalein, we especially urge you to try this milder method. You will have a better, freer passage and without strain or griping. A bottle can be had at any drug store and the average cost is less than a cent a dose.

Your car is listed on the complete chart of recommendations displayed at our new store.

Chart of Recommendations.

THE correct grade of Gargoyle Mobiloil for engine lubrication of both passenger cars and motor trucks are specified in the Chart below.

How to Read the Chart: Read the "Make" column for the make of your car. Read the "Model" column for the model of your car. Read the "Year" column for the year of your car. Read the "Grade" column for the grade of oil recommended.

Where different grades are recommended for summer and winter use, the winter recommendation should be followed during the winter period when freezing temperatures are experienced. The Chart of Recommendations is compiled by the Vacuum Oil Company's Bureau of Research, an Engineer, and represents our professional advice on correct automobile lubrication.
